Course Requirements Please note that for most courses there are special eligibility requirements which are determined by the departments. Application to exchange program does not guarantee any course registration. Law students need to have studied at least 120 credits of law or related areas in order to take law courses. 120 credits is equivalent to two years of full time studies. Courses offered by the Stockholm Business School and the Department of Law are very popular. Students should be flexible in their course selection. Please also bear in mind that the Stockholm Business School can only confirm any admittance to their courses about a week before the semester starts.

Swedish Language Course Swedish language courses, on different levels, are offered for free by the Department of Swedish Language and Multilingualism to all incoming exchange students su.se/studyswedish. Information about the language courses is available on the link provided.

Registration to Courses Registration to courses are done at each department and all necessary information will be sent to the students prior to course start.

Transcript of Records

Students will be able to create their digital Transcripts of records once all the grades are set in the records in the end of the semester. Information will be given at the end of semester.
