Intercultural approaches for public health

It is an international experiential learning initiative that seeks to provide techniques for research to prepare young investigators.

About us

The UC | Chile was founded in 1888, and it is also one of Chile's oldest universities and one of the most recognized educational institutions in Latin America. We have a permanent commitment to quality in our service to fulfill our founding mission. We hold rigorous academic standards and adopt international best practices from top universities worldwide.

The University has 18 faculties, including schools and institutes; an interdisciplinary institute, the UC College Program, and the Villarrica Campus, and, together they cover all areas of knowledge. Also, it has four campuses in Santiago and one in Villarrica, in Southern Chile. Each of them has its own identity and is linked to a different historical moment.

The program

The Initiative offers conceptual and empirical elements of social sciences to place health-disease processes in a complex sociocultural environment. It provides a varied vision of medicine and its history, considering different medical systems and going deeply into traditional Mapuche and Aymara medicine and its worldview. Both tensions and exchanges between globalization processes and local identities are analyzed along with the presentation of the intercultural approach as an analytical perspective and practical strategy in the health systems.

Intercultural approaches for public health in times of pandemics

It is an international experiential learning initiative that seeks to provide techniques for research to prepare young investigators for observing, developing, supporting, or finishing research projects in public or private institutions through an intercultural approach to health.

In this opportunity, the offer focuses on promoting students' immersion (of any Degree course) in research methodologies within an experiential learning context applied to health.

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

The Vice presidency of International Affairs offers one cultural activity included in the program; this is a world heritage site named by UNESCO.

The Historic Quarter of the Seaport City of Valparaíso.

THE HISTORIC QUARTER OF THE SEAPORT CITY OF VALPARAÍSO

The colonial city of Valparaíso presents an excellent example of late 19th-century urban and architectural development in Latin America. In its natural amphitheater-like setting, the city is characterized by a vernacular urban fabric adapted to the hillsides that are dotted with a great variety of church spires. It contrasts with the geometrical layout utilized in the plain. The city has preserved its interesting early industrial infrastructures, such as the numerous 'elevators' on the steep hillsides.
