THRIVING IN PARTNERSHIP

Welcome message

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to this year's Student-Staff Partnerships Showcase – Thriving in Partnership. Today is an opportunity for the Student-Staff Partnerships (SSP) community to celebrate the work carried out during the year and to share the experiences of their partnerships with the broader UQ community.

This year's theme, Thriving in Partnership, will showcase how project teams cultivated their ideas, nurtured their partnerships, and grew together to harvest the fruits of their projects. This event is an opportunity for student and staff partners from across the university to share their experiences and celebrate the growth nourished through collaboration, planting the seed for future project ideas.

Thank you for attending and we hope that this event is an opportunity for you to learn, reflect and connect as you begin or continue your journey in partnership.

Warm regards,

Delia, Rachel, Rowan, Joey, Prachi, Shreyas and Ylaine

Student-Staff Partnerships Team & Advisory Group Student Members

Keynote abstract

Join Katsu Shike and Inez Beadell for a keynote presentation about purpose, process and power in partnership. "Thriving in Partnership – Purpose, Process and Power" will draw on their experiences engaging in partnership, exploring the partnership process(es) from the conception of an idea to the outcome. This presentation will also examine the 'self' in partnership and how power can interact and interrupt teams throughout the partnership process.

Katsu Shike

Principal Sexual Misconduct Prevention Coordinator (he/him)

Katsu is a public health specialist in the area of sexual violence and harassment prevention. He is driven to create and support communities to feel safe, empowered, and progressing. Katsu draws on community development and public health frameworks which underpin much of the work he is involved with across the university to create informed and engaged communities, throughout which partnership plays a critical role.

Inez Beadell

Doctor of Medicine, Student (she/her)

Inez is a second-year medical student and has been involved in Student Staff Partnerships for the last two years. She is privileged to be working on a project exploring the LGBTQIA+ student experience. She is passionate about equity and inclusivity and making university accessible and safe for all.
