Admission to Courses

Exchange students will receive confirmation of admission to the courses directly from the department no later than August/December. If a course is rejected, students will be contacted by our International Office to select alternatives. Please note that admission to the exchange program does not guarantee enrollment in specific courses. Departments may have additional eligibility criteria.

Visa Information

Exchange students with citizenship in countries outside EU/EEA and Switzerland need to apply for a residence permit for studies in Sweden. This applies even if you currently hold a residence permit for studies in another EU country. You may use the Letter of Acceptance to apply for a residence permit for studies through the Swedish Migration Agency. Note that the assessment times at the Migrations Agency are lengthy and that students need to apply for a residence permit for studies as soon as possible after receiving Letter of Acceptance (at least 4 months in advance). In addition, students need to make an appointment to show their passport at an embassy as soon as it is possible after they received their residence permit application. Further information can be found here.

Course Registration and Learning Agreement

The departments register exchange students to courses and provide final information in courses before the course start. Learning Agreements can only be signed after final course admission by the department.

Arrival to Stockholm University

Exchange students are warmly welcomed to Stockholm University. We organize an Arrival Day and offer Welcome Activities designed to help them settle in and connect with fellow students. For additional details, can be found here.

Departure from Stockholm University

Exchange student will be offered information upon departure and be invited to a farewell activity. Digital transcripts with a verification link are offered to exchange students once grades are finalized. Students will receive instructions at the end of the semester. Partners can request transcripts by emailing exchange@su.se.
